

Executive Leadership

A 2-day programme

Who for:

Established leaders who wish to take a fresh look at their own leadership styles, skillsets and preferences, and ask again, "As a leader, what do I want for myself, for my team, for my organisation and am I doing all I can consistently, to achieve that?"

In this programme, you will learn and practise:

- How to use Personal Style Profiling to assess your preferred "default" style of leadership, and to consider how far this is "best fit" for your personal goals, and for your organisational objectives and circumstances
- The five skillsets of Inspirational Leadership: challenging established processes; inspiring shared values, visions and plans; enabling and empowering others; encouraging and motivating; becoming a professional leadership role model
- How to apply the ILM72 model to increase and enhance your situational sensitivity and personal style flexibility
- Using Power Dynamics to build and strengthen your sphere of influence as a leader
